WELCOME M.G.C. STUDENTS

Endless lines, hours of standing, welcoming signs, and a booklet on Orientation greeted incoming students as they caught their first glimpse of college life. The painstaking task of registration, a combination of fear and wonder as to what tomorrow would hold; a new facet of life — Middle Georgia College.

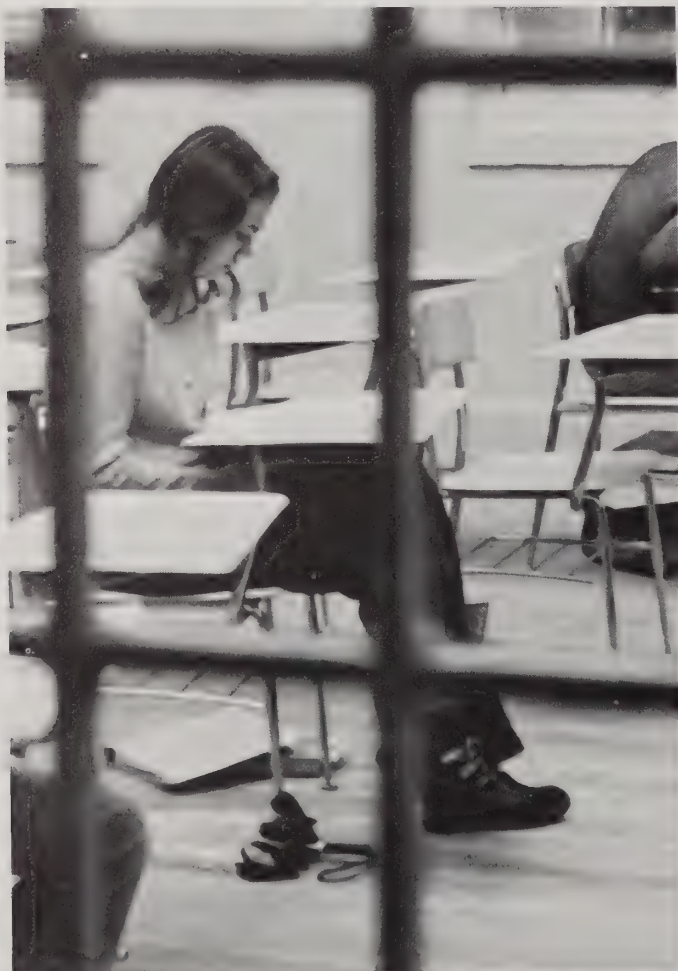

CLASSES BEGIN . . .

Where is Dillard Hall? You've got him? Where do I get my meal ticket? These were some of the typical questions being asked around the campus on September 21, 1972, the beginning of fall quarter. Freshmen were totally bewildered. To the sophomores, it was the routine they had already become accustomed to. As the day came to an end, sighs of relief could be heard in all the dorms — the students had successfully completed their first day of classes as MGC. Then to the point — STUDY!

. . . THE AGONY OF IT ALL.

PBL

Phi Beta Lambda began its 1972 year with its annual reorganization meeting and its tea for the new members. During Fall quarter, the chapter was represented at the Fall planning conference for Georgia in Atlanta. They also entertained at the President's Club Carnival with a pitching contest and hosted its annual Christmas banquet.

Early in the Winter quarter, the chapter officers met with President Alderman to declare February 11-17 as PBL week at MGC. In conjunction with the week, the PBL members toured the Southern Bell Computer center in Macon and began a program of advertising the MGC business department throughout the state.

Their music was folkrock. The Silvermen, a group from Atlanta, Georgia, laid it on the MGC students with songs like "The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down" for the first concert of the year. The true meaning of their music was embedded in the minds of the students.

In October the Mac Frampton Trio performed in Russell Hall. The Trio is made up of Mac Frampton who had previously been to MGC as the pianist in "I Do, I Do," Phil Perkins, and Doug Smith. The music had enough variety that anyone who attended could not have been disappointed. The group began by playing several popular tunes, then added a few classical pieces, and finished with an encore of progressive jazz from "Fiddler on the Roof". The trio was remarkable, proven by a standing ovation at the end of their performance.

"Music is Love . . .

. . . Love is Music."

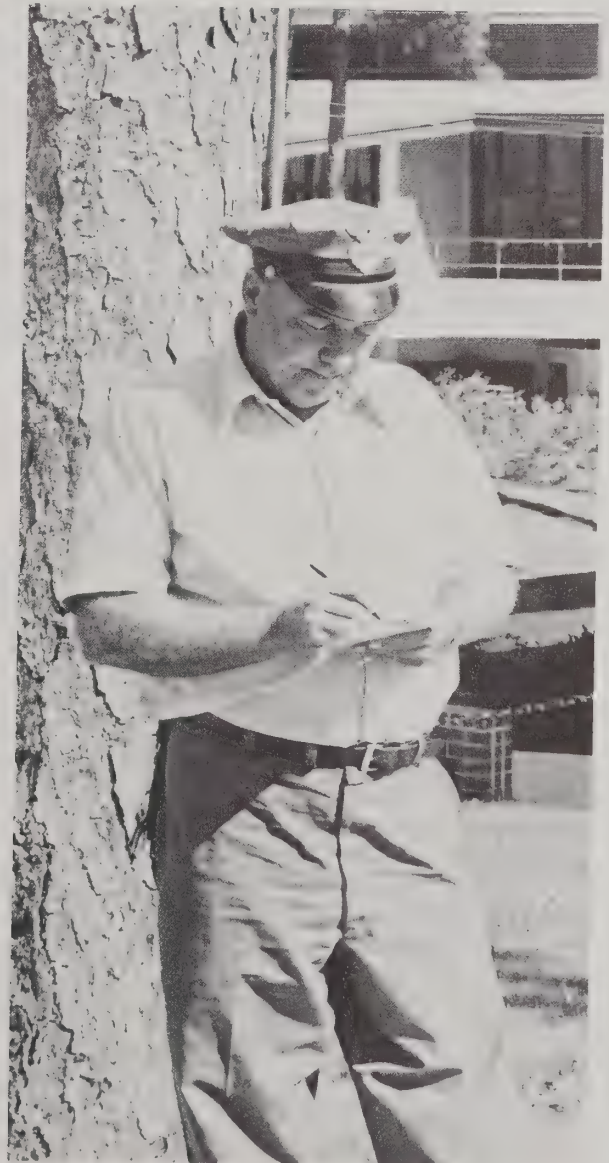

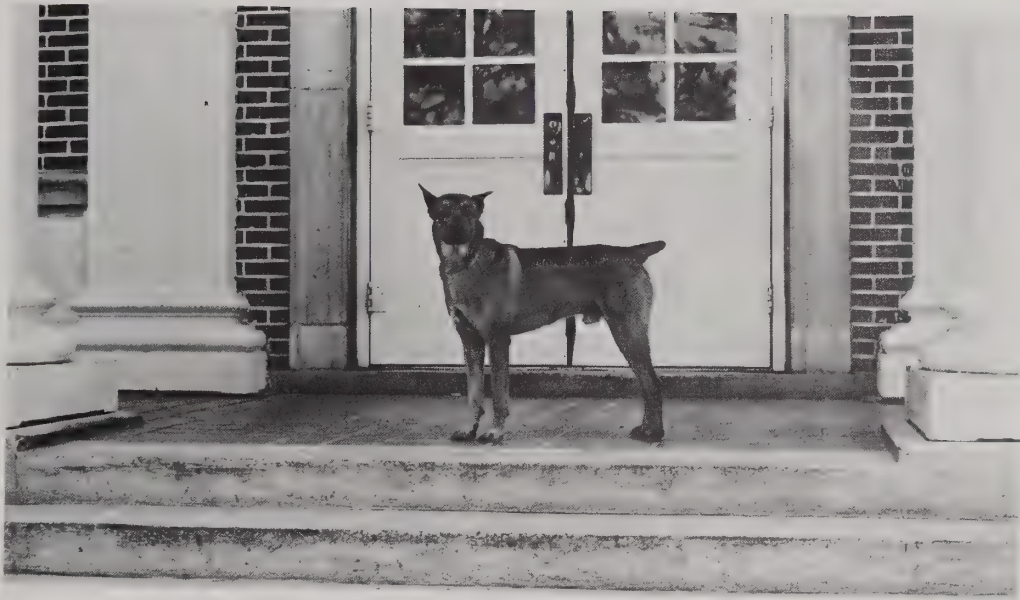

Halloween Club Carnival

Those who entered Georgia Hall on Halloween night were amazed at the transformation from the normal, quiet atmosphere to the noisy, crowded, halloween festivities of the club carnival. The Presidents Club sponsored the carnival again this year, and the clubs on campus were asked to sponsor a booth so the new students could become acquainted with opportunities for club membership. The ideas varied from a T.V. monitor sponsored by the Midga Players to the BSU's rolling revival complete with piano. Some fourteen booths were entered, making this year's carnival a howling success.

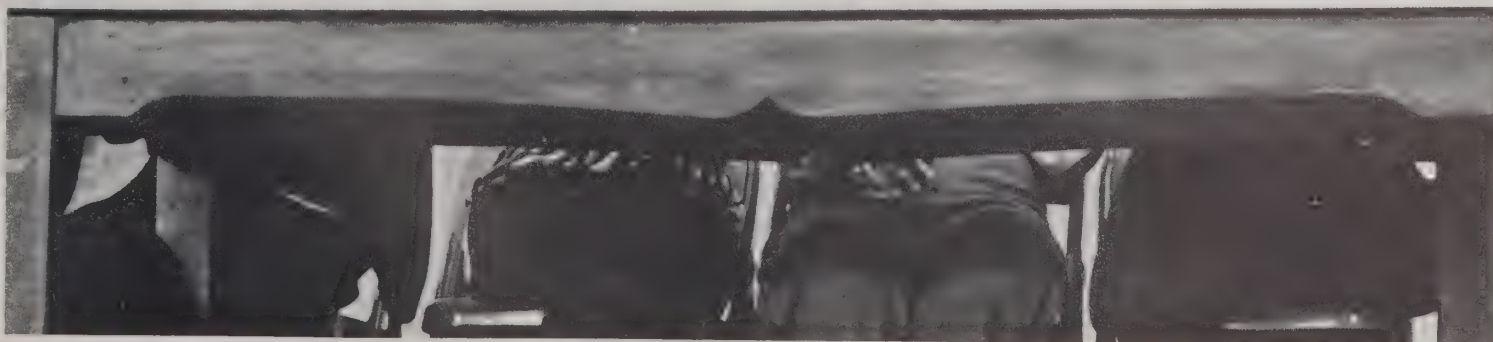

Liberation

Including all the dances the Student Activities Committee sponsored this year, Liberation perhaps ranked at the top of the list of favorites. Their music ranged from boogie woogie to hard rock.

FALL CONVOCATION '72

Interesting — entertaining — amusing — was the talk Dr. Charles Shedd presented at the Fall Convocation in October. Dr. Shedd, author of THE STORK IS DEAD and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at St. Simons Island, gave a short talk and then left the floor open for direct questions from the captive audience. Since time was limited, four MGC students aided him in the selection of questions. The questions Dr. Shedd answered showed his sincerity, humor, warmth, and understanding.

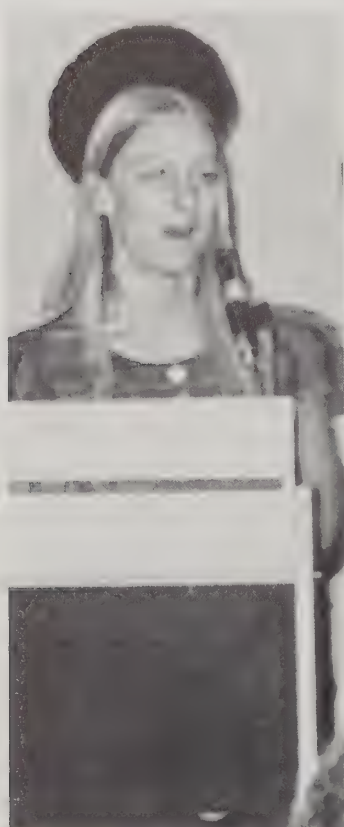

Russell Hall Dedication

On November 2, Russell Hall was formally dedicated to the late Georgia Senator Richard Brevard Russell. On hand for this occasion was Governor Jimmy Carter, who was the principal speaker, members of the Board of Regents for the University System of Georgia, and members of the Russell family. Mr. Glenn Chesnut, art professor at MGC, unveiled the bust of Senator Russell which was then placed in the gallery of Russell Hall. Members of Phi Theta Kappa, Student Council, and Presidents Club took the family and friends through the million dollar building while the Warner Robins Air Force Reserve Command Band played outside.

SGA Election

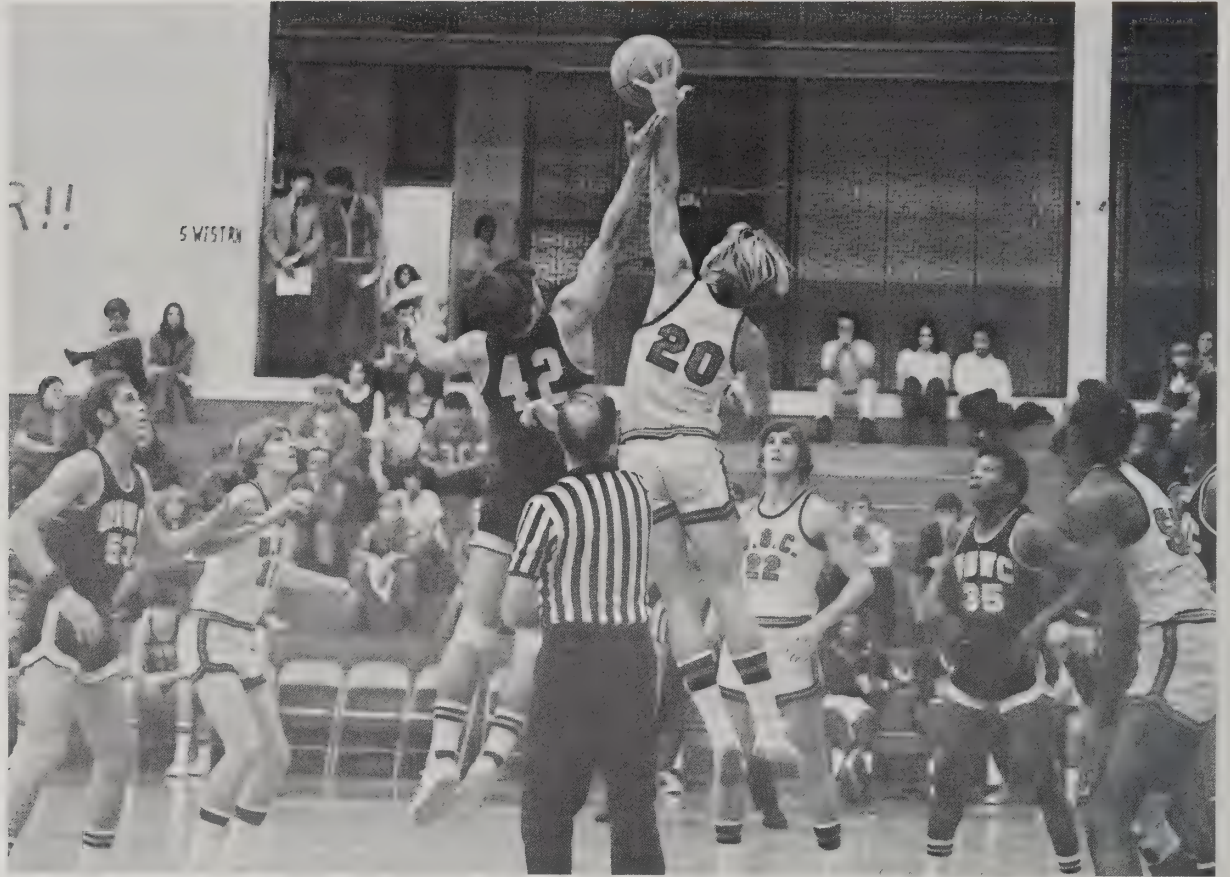

The students of Middle Georgia College elected Rope Roberts as President, Crawford W. Broome as Vice President and Susan Sturgis as Secretary of the Student Government Association for 1972.

For the 1972 representatives at large, the students body elected: Jan Bray; Sue Smith; Cindy Conner; Jeff Fitzpatrick; Debbie Belville. Joanne Young; Ronnie Chastain; Neva Shephard; Jeff Youngblood; Vicki Smith; Clayton Reid; Bobby Deaton; Brink Bradshaw; Mike Regin; Freddy Mullis; Kent Martin; Preston Martin and Eddy Reeves.

VOLE*RONNIE*chastain*S. REP.!

"Warriors are Best . . . Yes!"

The Warriors got off to a great start this year as they participated with Georgia Southwestern, Gordon, and Palmer Colleges in the tip-off tournament held here. The desire to win was obvious as they went out on the floor to battle against the highly ranked junior colleges. The Warriors were the underdogs in the race, but fought courageously and came out on top to win the first place trophy presented by President Alderman. Nobody had to wonder who was number one; the smiles of the players gave the secret away. What's more, those who attended the games were very pleased too.

A HATFUL OF RAIN

For the fall production this year, the MIDGA Players chose A HATFUL OF RAIN by M.V. Gazzo.

The production, which was directed by Mr. Nelson Carpenter, featured Gary Hess in the lead roll of Johnny Pope, a veteran hooked on drugs, and deals with his problem of either kicking the habit or loosing his wife.

Steve Cignarella played the roll of Johnny's brother, Polo. Lynne Gowen, Johnny's wife, also made her debut on the MGC stage in the production. Cecelia is closer to Johnny than any other character and is the last to recognize his problem.

The "Big Man" in the drug business and Johnny's contact is "Mother", played by Tommy (Maynard) Hodges. "Mother" is assisted in his drug dealings by gangsters Frank Allen, William Pfeiffer, and Ellis Tillman.

Rex Ottinger took the part of Johnny's father who continues the complications of the play by constantly telling Polo how good Johnny is and how bad he is.

Kathy Purser took the final part as Purski, Mother's girlfriend.

One critic of the play stated, "Another job well done by the MIDGA Players."

Homecoming '72 — Floats, Bands, Beauties.

As always the highlight of Fall quarter was homecoming week festivities. It all began early in the week of November 13, and lasted through the big night of November 18. Each dorm and club on campus made preparation for its entry in the parade and in the homecoming court.

As the greatest weekend of the quarter drew near, more students could be seen working on the dorm decorations and parades. When Friday finally arrived, the longest parade in the history of Middle Georgia College progressed from down town to the campus. Floats, bands and beauties lined the streets of Cochran. Bands from as far away as Warner Robins came for the big event led by Grand Marshall for the year, Mr. Oscar Stembridge.

The MGC Warriors were not as successful in their venture to bring fame to the school's homecoming festivities as was the parade. The Warriors dropped the game to the DeKalb Community College Patriots — 77 to 76.

Saturday's activities were highlighted by the homecoming dance featuring Flood and Whitehall. Miss Susan Sturgis was crowned 1972 Freshman Maid of Honor and Miss Shelly Edwards crowned as the Middle Georgia Homecoming Queen.

All in all, Homecoming 1972 is something to remember.

Intramural Football . . . Stiff Competition.

Intramural football produced one of the largest and most enthusiastic student turnouts of all activities during fall quarter. Under a well run program teams battled for the number one title. The rivalries were intense, thus producing many hotly, contested games. All the hours of practice and play boiled down to one final game. Tom and Jerry's team was undefeated until the final championship game which they dropped to the Lost Angels.

Powderpuff Football . . . Bruises, Aches, Pains.

In November the sophomore girls battled the freshmen girls in the most thrilling football game ever played at Middle Georgia College. The game, sponsored by the Warriors Club, ended with a score of 0-0, a broken finger, and dozens of bruises.

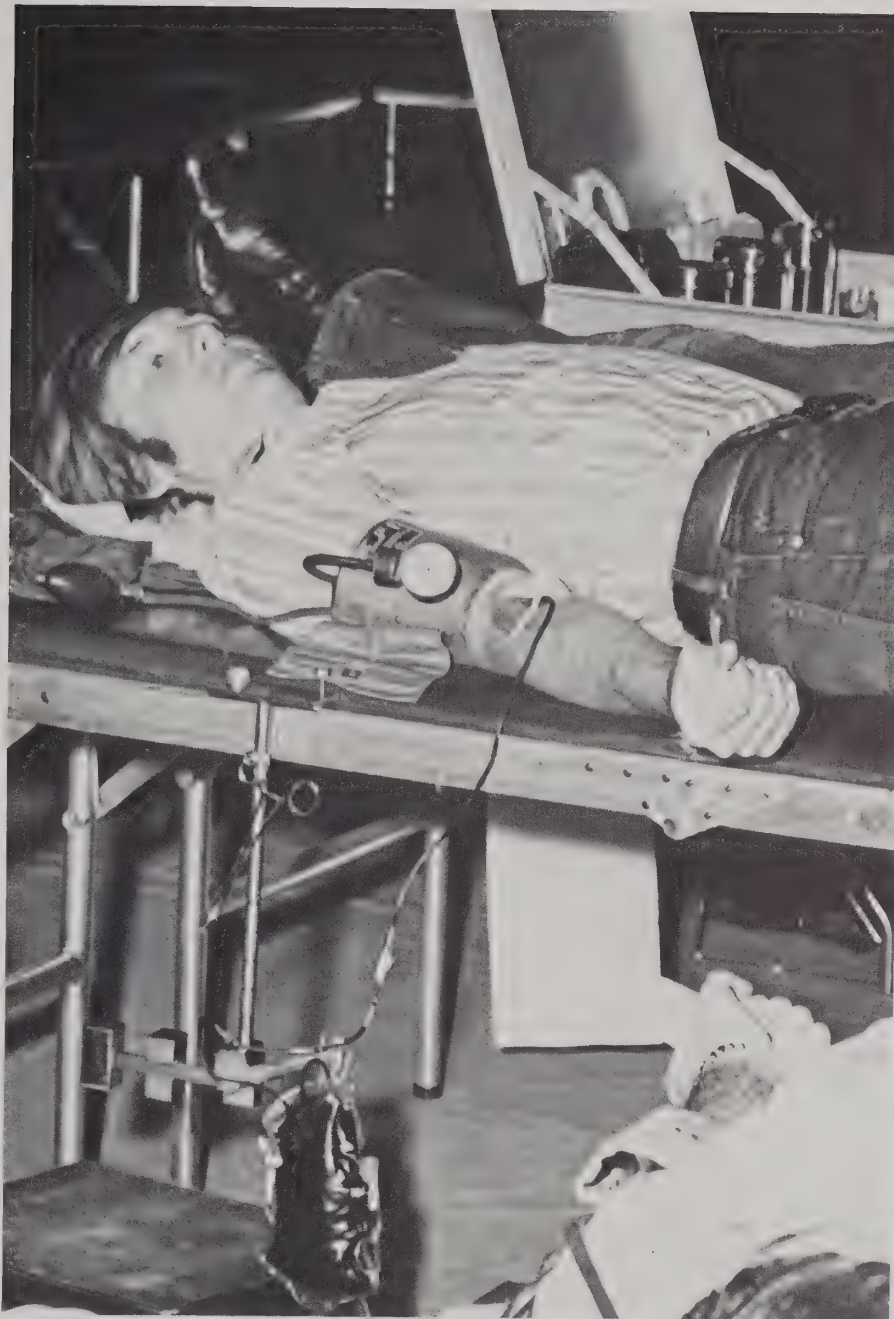

During the half time Marshall Ginn was crowned "Miss" Homecoming Queen, and Sammy Young was named "Miss" Freshman Maid of Honor. What sights to behold and ones that can't be easily forgotten — beautiful men, handsome women, and pro football players.

Civitan

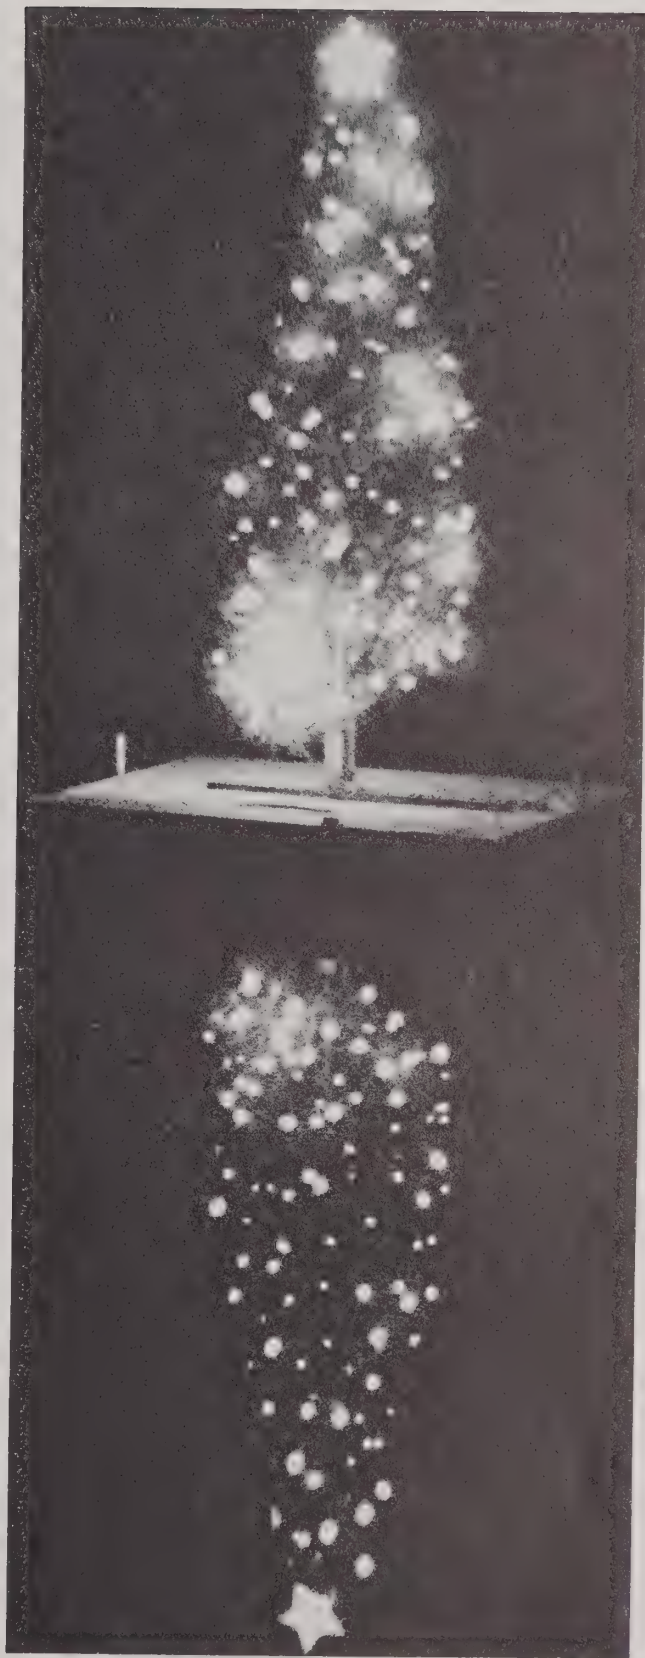

Civitan, one of the most active groups on campus in community service, assisted Bleckley County in getting blood donations. Despite a day of rain and preregistration the same day, members paraded outside to influence the students to give. Obviously they succeeded because Dean Willham announced that there were many who had to be turned away.

The club also sold Prisoners of War Bracelets. These bracelets have names of men who were reported captured or missing in action in the Vietnam war and the day they were reported missing. The bracelets were symbols reminding everyone that POW's "never have a nice day."

A Floating, Singing Christmas at M.G.C.

This year's Student Government took the responsibility of decorating the campus for the Ule Tide Season. Highlighted were a floating tree and a special tree-lighting ceremony. Students sung Christmas carols led by the B.S.U. choir. Finally, the Christmas dance held at the end of the quarter brought to a close a most memorable occasion.

Winter quarter got underway with the usual long lines; however, the student activities committee sponsored Bill Deal and the Rhondells to give that extra boost that is always needed for what most students believe to be the most boring of all quarters.

For several years, the title of Miss Hilltopper has been bestowed on the girl who represented the epitome of the ideal young woman — beautiful, personable, intelligent and active in the affairs of her school.

Contestants were interviewed by a panel of impartial judges at the annual Miss Hilltopper tea held in the latter part of January. The girls were sponsored by various campus organizations. The judges included Mrs. Tina Neal of Warner Robins; Mrs. Mary Stephens also of Warner Robins; "Rope" Roberts, S.G.A. President at M.G.C., Miss Pat Smith, Instructor of Speech and Drama at M.G.C.; and Mr. Randall Ursrey, Instructor of Psychology at M.G.C.

Following the tea hosted by the Hilltopper staff, the contestants were individually interviewed on subjects ranging from National Affairs to Housekeeping.

The winners were announced and presented flowers on Honors Day held in May. Chosen Miss Hilltopper 1973 was Miss Marian Chappell of Locust Grove. Cindy Hudson of Ocilla was awarded the title of First runner-up. Second runner-up was Miss Susan Whaley of Conyers and Marie Lewis of Augusta was announced third runner-up.

PTK TALENT CONTEST

Phi Theta Kappa hosted its annual talent contest as the close of the social calendar for Winter Quarter. President Derry Crosby hosted acts of singing, pantomime, and even a harmonica duo. Bruce Fisher took top honors in the contest while Ray Stevens placed second and Dan Darden took third place awards. Special entertainment was provided by Counterpoint.

Student Publications . . .

. . . hard work
. . . tedious layout
. . . all-night sessions
. . . nerve-racking
deadlines.

Three student publications — the KERNEL, the HILLTOPPER, and the MUSES — are published annually by the student publications committee. This year, all three publication offices were centered in Jackson Hall offering a greater opportunity to exchange staffs and ideas. Under the direction of George Hinton and "Bubba" Laney, the three staffs did a superb job for the Middle Georgia College student body. The KERNEL received recognition for being the best Junior College newspaper in the field of News and in Features at the GCPA meet in February. MUSES, the literary magazine, was published during the Spring to offer the students a better opportunity to show their artistic abilities. The HILLTOPPER, again this year, decided on a fall publication date offering the chance to include all major Spring events. The majority of the credit for the great success of the 1973 student publications should go to Mr. Hinton and "Bubba" for their continuing dedication to the organizations.

MGC Phi Beta Lambda members returned with four first place finishes — Best Exhibit, Parliamentary Procedure, Typing, and Data Processing — from their state convention in May. The first place winners went on to represent MGC in Washington, D.C. in June.

SPRING SHENANIGANS — 1973 SOLID GOLD!!!

. . . and that's the way it was!

AN EVENING OF THE ABSURD .

For the Spring Production, the MIDGA players presented An Evening of the Absurd: THE ZOO STORY and THE BALD SOPRANO. MGC's Nelson Carpenter directed the production. In THE ZOO STORY by Edward Albee, Gary Hess played the part of Jerry and Frank Allen played an average business man. THE BALD SOPRANO by Eugene Ionesco, a typically English absurd play featured Kathy Purser Giddens as Mrs. Smith, David Dickinson as Mr. Smith, Ellis Tillman as Mr. Martin, Regina Jump as Mrs. Martin, Gary Hess as the Fire Chief, and Angela Murphy as the maid.

"We have what it takes."

During the Spring Shenanigans Week at MGC, the Rotoract Club sponsored a reverse beauty pageant. The contestants were members of various clubs. "Miss" Steve "Moose" Brown, a 250 pound beauty was crowned "Miss" Shenanigans 1973. "Miss" Larry Driggers took second place honors in the competition, and "Miss" Derry Crosby took third place honors. The activities were hosted by "Mr." Judy M. Lucas.

Betsy Roland and Charlie Hill

The beginning of spring quarter was marked by the crowning of Miss Middle Georgia of 1973. Seven girls competed for the title, one of which would represent her school in the Miss Georgia Pageant. Contestants were judged in three categories: swimsuit, evening gown, and talent. Prior to the pageant, the girls had been individually interviewed by the judges. On hand for the event were Miss Betsy Rowland, Miss Middle Georgia College of 1971, Miss Dot Meadows, Miss Middle Georgia College of 1972, and Mr. Ray Stephens, a MGC student. Charlie Hill, Master of Ceremonies, announced Angie Bedingfield of Cadwell as second runner-up, Joye Roland of Ocilla as first runner-up, and Candy Carter of Baxley as the new Miss Middle Georgia College.

May Day 1973

Queen — Jackie Gardner

Students selected eight freshman and eight sophomores to compose the 1973 May Court. Derry Crosby, Master of Ceremonies, announced Joanne Young as the Freshman Maid of Honor and Jackie Gardner as May Queen. The Queen was crowned by Dr. Louis Alderman and presented a bouquet of flowers by student government officers, Jimmy "Rope" Roberts and Crawford Broome.

The May Queen and her court were entertained by gymnasts from Georgia Southern College and Warner Robins. A group of talented students from Cochran High School presented musical selections from Rogers & Hammerstein's hit musical "Oklahoma."

Fine Arts Festival

Every year Middle Georgia College exhibits its cultural interests and achievements with the Fine Arts Festival. This year the Midga Players presented THE BALD SOPRANO and ZOO STORY.

On May 7, the College Choir, Ensemble, and Stageband presented their quarterly concert. The Piedmont Chamber Orchestra from Winston-Salem, North Carolina performed in Russell Hall the following night. Then on May 9, the applied music students gave a recital. Thursday, May 10, brought the piano duo of Yarborough & Cowan to the MGC campus. The college's own art students brought the week to a close with an exhibition of their woks in front of Russell Hall.

President Alderman

Louis Cleveland Alderman was born in Douglas, Georgia, and is a graduate of South Georgia College. He received his A.B. in biology at Emory University and his M.S. in parasitology at the University of Georgia. In 1959, he received his doctorate in Administration of higher education from Auburn University. Dr. Alderman and his wife, the former Anne Whipple, have four children.

In searching for a message to share with you in this year's HILLTOPPER, I could think of nothing more fitting or appropriate than these lines from John Masfield:

"There are few earthly things more beautiful than a College or University. It is a place where those who hate ignorance may strive to know, where those who perceive the truth may strive to make others see; where seekers and learners alike, banded together in search for knowledge, will honour thought in all its finer ways, will welcome learning and will exact standards in these things. They give to the young in their impressionable years the bond of a lofty purpose shared, of a great corporate life whose links will not be loosed until they die. They give young people that close companionship for which youth longs, and that chance of the endless discussion of the themes which are endless, without which youth would seem a waste of time."

DEAN OF ADMINISTRATION

We agree with those who claim that our young are the most deeply concerned, the most humanly committed generation we have seen in this century. Then we ask ourselves what are we doing to turn so many potentially valuable young people against their parent's society? What has happened to the effectiveness of formal education? I blame the permissiveness of our generation, the erosion of serious insistence upon values, disregard for the human need for discipline, and the pursuit on the part of many parents for affluency at any cost. Possible parents should concern themselves more with giving their children some of the things they had and less with giving their children those "luxuries" they did not have.

The President of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation declared: "Higher education for superior students receives little attention today since virtually all measures planned or taken on behalf of education affect other areas." He predicts, and I strongly concur, heavy costs to the nation unless "principals and school boards, (college administrators and trustees), state legislatures and Congress, parent-teacher associations (and alumni organizations), foundations and corporations" find a way to reverse the present trend toward mediocrity. Frighteningly, the fact is that quality education is receiving meager attention.

Education for the masses may be plausible, but not at the expense of what the more capable student could otherwise gain. Higher national literacy is a fine objective, but the reduction in the excellence for those who are to be our future leaders could be disastrous. In the limit, we could reach the status of the individual who knows "nothing about everything" or even "everything about nothing." As Princeton professor Sheldon Hackney said, "Higher education . . . is now a mass phenomenon . . . This is good, proper, and exciting, but it means that support and energy for 'high quality' education are threatened."

The most important of college objectives is to get the student to learn to think. This is the ultimate in education. True, a person must possess the facts and figures, the principles and techniques, a varied as well as a specialized portion of the store of knowledge, before he can make use of it. But, to use it effectively for the benefit of mankind, he must possess the ability to analyze, to synthesize, to organize, to create, to evaluate, in simple words, the ability to think his way through a situation to a satisfactory conclusion.

We seem to have gone from faith in intellectual rationalism to faith in experienced empiricism, or from belief in ideas to belief in material things. Whereas once we sought truth in the philosophy of logic, today we reach for science or mathematics. Whereas previously the philosophical branch of esthetics was looked upon to determine beauty, now we merely use a definition. Whereas the philosophy of ethics was consulted for goodness in the past, currently the non-philosophers — poets, sociologists, religious leaders, scientists — are asked to distinguish between right and wrong.

The critical problem of environment pollution, which we too willingly fail to heed seriously, is one result of our material, comfort and convenience demands that we insist upon, again, at any cost. The beautiful pictures of our planet as it appears from space, the Apollo missions have TV'd and brought back, are awesome as well as thrilling. They make us realize, as nothing did before, how very much like the spaceship itself is the planet Earth. Compared to the moon, it bathes in beauty, but relatively it flows small, lonely, restricted and limited. Its resources are fixed and unreplenishable as are those on the spaceship. A crucial relationship has been reached with this home of ours in the vast universe.

Earth Day of three years ago sponsored by your generation seemed a plausible attempt, but have you persisted in the attempt seriously and properly enough to bring about changes in our demands? No, you too have yielded to materialism and found objection to the sacrifice of comfort and convenience.

Dedication

Because you are the spirit of your ideals,
Because you understand us and our problems,
Because you care about the future of MGC,
Because You are You,
We the Sophomores and HILLTOPPER Staff dedicate to you, Dr. Robert H. Holland, the twenty-fifth edition of the HILLTOPPER.

"Every Picture Tells A Story"
 Rod Stewart

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever: Its loveliness increases; it can never pass into nothingness."

Editor's Message

As Time goes on, we become aware that She can do quite a bit of destruction to our memory. Often it takes something such as a picture to trigger our emotions so as to begin a train of thought to recall and relive a few moments of "splendor in the grass." Every yearbook editor's wish as he finishes that last deadline is that his book will do just that. If so, then all the hours of planning and worrying will have been worth it all. I am writing as though assuming the responsibility was nothing but one big headache. It was an experience I can never forget and one which nothing could replace.

Thanks to everyone for the part you played in assembling the '73 HILLTOPPER. Realizing an impossibility, I hope that every day of your life will be a happy one.

Mary Jo Brantley
Editor
